

The words that you always says

The various library' spaces exist a bottle where readers are invited to put on the bottle sentences of books they have read and that somehow the have touched. At the end of the year, these sentences will be collected and will give rise to an exposure

Exhibition that is running until November.

Aveiro and the 1st world War

15 to 30 of September

Documentary shows allusive to the 1st World War based on the Municipal Historical Archive documentation

Between notes and letters

29 of September and 11 of October

Within the framework of the celebration of World Music Day, an exhibition of various musical instruments with the respective identification and brief description / history complemented by alluding to the them documentations. Collaboration of music schools in the country, with performances of their students. Building workshop tools for small children

